These positions have been posted in expectations of current library managers taking over various duties of the library’s former assistant director, who resigned in March. This will result in a decrease in administrative costs and the permanence of these positions is contingent upon a twelve-month probationary period.

Mr. Arthur also reported that he will be taking two of his three months of paternity leave this fall, and will take remaining one-month leave in or around April or May 2024. Mr. Christie suggested hiring an interim library director to take over Mr. Arthur’s duties while he is on paternity leave and Mr. Arthur explained that hiring an interim library director is one of the options being considered however it could cost upwards of $95.00 per hour.
